Flu A & B Rapid Test / Flu A/B & RSV Rapid Test

Influenza is an acute viral infection that circulates worldwide. It is a major public health concern as it spreads easily from person to person and causes severe illness and death in high risk populations. Influenza B almost exclusively infects humans and is less common than influenza A. Influenza B also mutates about two to three times more slowly than influenza A. Since humans are the natural host of influenza B, pandemics generally do not occur with influenza B viruses.

Respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) infection has been associated with an estimated 57,527 hospitalizations and 2.1 million outpatient visits among children aged <5 years annually in the United States. MPV is closely related to RSV, by far the most significant airway virus affecting children worldwide. However, RSV is proven to cause more severe illness than MPV.

ProDetect™ Flu A & B Rapid Test detect influenza A and influenza B virus in nasal swab, throat swab and nasal aspirate as an aid in the diagnosis of influenza infection.

ProDetect™ Flu A/B & RSV Rapid Test qualitatively detects the presence of Respiratory Syncytial Virus, Influenza A and B antigens in nasopharyngeal swab or nasal aspirate specimens, providing results within 15 minutes.

Persons of all age groups are susceptible to influenza. Worldwide, these annual epidemics are estimated to result in about 3 to 5 million cases of severe illness, and about 290,000 to 650,000 deaths.

(WHO-Influenza Sesimal, 2018)

Influenza-like illness that presents in other respiratory virus infections makes the clinical differentiation of influenza from other pathogens difficult. Rapid influenza diagnostic tests are recommended in clinical settings, so severe complications can be prevented.
